VOLUME XXIII NUMBER 30

LOUISA, LAWRENCE COUNTY, KENTUCKY, JUNE 19, 1908

M. F. CONLEY, Publisher

4TH OF JULY

Will be Celebrated in Louisa This Year as Usual.

While the committees have not yet completed all the arrangements it is safe to say that Louisa will have a good celebration of the glorious Fourth this year. The program will be made up within the next day or two.

It is almost certain that elaborate exercises in connection with the Kentucky Normal College building will be carried out on that day. A formal corner-stone laying will be the basis of the exercises. Efforts are now being made to procure some of the best speakers in the State.

Painfully Injured.

Last Tuesday morning Jerry Hudcote, assistant foreman for J. C. Thomas on the improvement of the dam, sustained an accident which is likely to lay him up for some time. While he was on a loaded gravel car, superintending its unloading, by some mischance a big bucket loaded with gravel was swung swiftly around, striking Hudcote with great force on his left leg. He was hastily picked up and carried to the shade of a tree and Dr. Wooten telephoned for him. The injured man was taken home in a buggy and the doctor attended to his hurt. Fortunately no bones were broken but the leg was skinned and bruised almost from knee to heel. The tendons behind the knee were very much bruised and strained, making motion very painful and almost impossible. Mr. Hudcote is resting fairly comfortably at his home in West Louisa.

Country Store Robbed.

Last Monday night the store of Sumner Judd, located at the intersection of Little Blaine and Smoky Valley roads, about 2 miles from this place, was broken into and robbed of goods and money amounting to about $50. Mr. Judd lives a mile or so from the store, and knew nothing of the burglary until he went to business Tuesday morning. He sent for the bloodhounds, but they were not able to find a trail. Mr. Judd thinks he knows where his stolen property is, and some interesting developments may be expected. Entrance to the store was effected by cutting away part of a window. Then it was an easy matter to reach in and loosen the catch.

New P. O. Ruling.

Louisa people will take interest in the new ruling that has just come into effect, and that was recently authorized by the Postoffice Department at Washington. By the terms of the new order, a defaced stamp is hereafter worthless. Should a corner be torn off, no matter how small, or the stamp mutilated in any other way, it cannot be longer used. All letters bearing such stamps will hereafter be held at the local office two weeks for recovery, and at the end of such a period, if not claimed, will be sent to the dead letter office.

The Poor Man's Berry.

Not in years has there been as fine a promise of a big blackberry crop as there is this year. Every bush and vine in all of the hills of Kentucky is covered with white blossoms converting the bushes into white clouds as beautiful to look upon as the garden of roses. The blackberry crop which grows wild in all of Kentucky, is of course not considered as amounting to much in the final round up of things this year but there will be thousands of tons of blackberries grow wild and be ready to the hand of the providential and prudent.

A Blaine York, who has been filling a government position in Washington, D. C., for the past few years, has returned from a visit with relatives at Yorkville, and has left for Helena, Mont., where he has a splendid legal appointment. York will be joined later by his wife and mother-in-law, Mrs. John Mahan.

He has His Reward.

Jim Howard, who was released from the penitentiary Saturday upon a pardon issued by Gov. Wilson, has been made a Deputy County Clerk of Jefferson county. William Durbin, who had been a faithful employe for ten years, was discharged to make room for Howard.

Commenting upon this appointment the Louisville Times says:

We cannot understand this appointment. He is not a citizen of Jefferson county and Gayheart should explain the reason for such an appointment. There are Republicans in Louisville as poor and much more worthy than Gabhart could have given the place to. The Times editorially has stated its doubts that Howard fired the shot that killed Gov. Goebel, but Jim Howard was an assassin when he fired the shot that killed George Hasker. A grudge and personal revenge may have furnished his motive, but he was guilty of a cowardly murder in his act. The people who are instrumental in his employment in Louisville should advise him that if he murder any citizen of Louisville that he can only escape just punishment by quick passage across the river into Indiana, where Kentucky murders are safe as long as Republican Governors are in charge of the administration of executive affairs in our sister State, and that will only be until the Democrats have a chance to change State administration.

Another Williamson Fire.

Williamson, W. Va., certainly seems doomed to be finally and totally destroyed by fire. The town has been visited by a number of disastrous conflagrations in the past two or three years.

Two more occurred at an early hour Thursday morning. The first destroyed the water works pumping station and Thompson's livery stable. The second fire occurred at 5 a. m., and the flames licked up eight residences. The total loss is $50,000.

It is said that Miss Rebecca Meek, formerly of Louisa, was a loser by this fire.

Able to Be Out Again.

Wm. J. Crutcher, manager of the company store at Holden, W. Va., is able to be out on the street after having undergone what is considered to be one of the most difficult operations ever performed in Huntington. Owing to the nature of the case and the condition of the patient, there was little hopes of his recovery at the time of the operation. His many friends will be glad to learn that he will soon be able to return to his business.

Real Estate Sales.

The following sales at public auction were made in this city Monday: The house and lot on Lock avenue, formerly owned and occupied by Jesse Cordell, to H. C. Sullivan, price $1,405. Two lots owned by same party were also sold, one to John Gartin for $411, and one to H. C. Sullivan for $399.50. A small frame on Madison street belonging to the Ell Fitch estate, was sold to Marion Damron for $31.

Married at Prestonsburg.

David May, of Pike county, and Miss Birdie Callahan, of Prestonsburg, were married at the latter place on Wednesday of this week and went to Cincinnati on a bridal trip. The bride is a handsome young lady, and a daughter of the late Dr. Callahan. Mr. May is a prominent farmer of Pike county.

Send Your Names.

The News has been requested to say that entertainment will be furnished to all delegates to the County Sunday school convention to be held in the town of Blaine July 10, 11 and 12. All who expect to go should send their names to Mrs. J. J. Gambill, at Blaine, Ky., and she will see that entertainment is provided.

Boliver Wesley now has the run of the late Andrew Berry. A few years ago Wesley sustained injuries which nearly ended his life. Boliver's many friends hope his subsequent runs may all be made in safety.

FATAL WRECK.

Engineer Lon Borders Scalded to Death in Railroad Accident.

Word has reached here that Lon Borders, a son of Charlie Borders, was killed Sunday in a railroad wreck in Indiana. Both Mr. Borders and his son were well known here before moving to Quincy, Ill. Lon Borders was related to Miss Mabel Butler of this city.

He was a railroad engineer. His engine left the rails on a curve and turned over on its side, scalding him until the flesh dropped from the bones. He died five hours later in horrible agony. He retained consciousness to the end. The accident was very similar to the one that killed Andy Berry.

Lon was 38 years old and was born at Old Peach Orchard, Lawrence county, Ky.

Republican National Convention.

The Republican National Convention is in session at Chicago. The last report says that the mention of Roosevelt's name started a demonstration that lasted 35 minutes. "Four years more" were chanted by the delegates for half an hour, showing that Roosevelt would be nominated if the delegates had half a chance.

Taft is conceded to have the nomination clinched, but no enthusiasm will go with it.

The Vice Presidency is an open proposition. Dooliver, of Iowa seems to be a favorite and there is strong sentiment for Fairbanks.

A Pleasant Meeting.

A pleasant meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of the Baptist church was held Wednesday at the residence of Mrs. L. M. Copley and much work was accomplished. Next Wednesday afternoon the meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Sam Bromley. Refreshments will be served, and the ladies cordially invite all their friends to call during the afternoon and partake of the cooling sweets that will be prepared. The proceeds will go into the Society's treasury. The ladies are requested to bring work to be done.

Historic Piece of Wood.

The gavel which was used in calling to order the Democratic State Convention at Lexington the other day was made from a piece of wood nearly a century old. It was taken from the present Statehouse, that old pile of stones and brick and wood which has stood for so long as the capital of the State of Kentucky, and which is soon to be replaced by the new and handsome building in South Frankfort. The gavel was made by Capt. R. E. Gaines of Frankfort, who is in the engineering department of the penitentiary. Lewis McQuown used the gavel in calling the convention to order, and then it was removed to a safe place for there was no desire to have it broken during the convention.

Capt. Gaines made the gavel himself. He went down into the basement of the Statehouse and took out a joist under the stair leading in to the cellar. He took this piece of wood down to the penitentiary with him and turned out a handsome gavel. The gavel itself, aside from its historic value, is a thing of beauty.

And Then They Ate.

The Royal Arch Masons of Louisa had lots of "work" last Monday night, the objects of their industry being the Drs. Gambill, of Blaine, and George Swetnam, of Wilbur. From labor they went to refreshment at Pigg's restaurant, where fish, spring chicken, etc. were consumed in large quantities.

The Postoffice Department has issued a bulletin showing the increase and decrease in the salaries of postmasters in the various cities of the State, under the appointments of the President. Under the new ruling Greenup is decreased from $1,100 to $1,000, Catlettsburg $2,000 to $1,800, and Olive Hill increased from $1,100 to $1,200.

Fatal Shooting in Catlettsburg.

Early Saturday evening a shooting affair occurred on Division street, in Catlettsburg, in which one man was killed and two wounded.

Bruce Lee, 24 years old, a son of Warfield Lee, was the white man who did the shooting. Both he and his father are respected in the town. Bruce is a quiet, orderly fellow, does not drink, and was never known to be in trouble before. The affair occurred about 5 o'clock Saturday evening, and was not a free-for-all fight.

It is understood that Lee was standing in front of a cleaning and pressing establishment, on Division street discussing the freedom of Powers and Howard, when Harry Scott, who bore the reputation of being a mean negro, "batted in." His remarks grew offensive, and James Shockey, who runs the pressing establishment, also joined in, but Scott was the chief aggressor. John Galloway, a young white man, was standing near, and had been in conversation with Lee, but started to walk away when Scott made his appearance. Scott was a bold negro, and absolutely fearless. He had been in considerable trouble, and only recently was in jail for resisting an officer who attempted to arrest him for stealing. He is the one who assaulted young finger, a white man, on the O. & B. S., and a few years ago was shot on being caught in the hills with a white man's wife. Many times he had been rebuked for making ugly remarks about white women, and only last week his brother, "Stubble" Scott, was arrested on a charge of attempting to assault a white girl.

Lee shot him through the breast after which Scott ran from the edge of the alley to a saloon, and breaking in the back door, fell dead in the wine room.

Shockey was shot in the left shoulder, but only slightly hurt. A stray bullet struck Galloway in the thigh, and the wound is a very dangerous one.

A Young Hero.

Vaughan Spencer, a lad of about 12 years, who lives at Torchlight, in a modest sort of way, quite a hero. When the unfortunate accident on the C. & O. occurred near Torchlight a couple of weeks ago everybody about the place of the wreck seemed dazed and quite at a loss as to what was best to do for the relief of the wounded. One, however, the youngest in the crowd, speedily grasped the situation and its demands, and without saying a word to anyone dashed off down the road for Dr. Moore, a mile and a half away. To the man of medicine he briefly, but intelligently, told what had occurred, and almost before the people at the wreck knew that aid had been summoned the doctor was at hand.

Young Spencer's efforts should be practically appreciated.

J. Norman Blake, of Huntington, was recently married in Cincinnati to Miss Nora Roberson, of Pikeville. The bride is a daughter of Judge J. M. Roberson, is intelligent and very pretty. The groom travels for the Watts-Ritter Company. Parental objections led to the marriage away from home.

Mrs. W. H. Marrs and children are visiting relatives and friends at Paintsville this week. They were accompanied by Mr. Marrs' mother, who is probably the oldest person in this section, being 92 years of age. Mrs. Marrs is very active for one at her age.

The American Boom & Lumber Co. recently incorporated at Farmers, Ky., has elected the following officers: President, S. B. Rees; vice-president, N. Goodman; secretary and treasurer, E. Slaughter; general superintendent, B. Mineark of Morehead, Ky.

Friends of Capt. and Mrs. Earl C. Carnahan will be interested in hearing that they are in Yokohama, Japan. Mrs. Carnahan will remain until September, when she will again be joined by Capt. Carnahan and the family will then return to the States.

Keep your bottle of gasoline out of the reach of your children. A little boy in Midway secured a bottle of the stuff recently and drank a part of its contents. He died in a short time.

ACCIDENT

Of Unusual Nature Causes Death of S. T. Pennington.

Washington, D. C. June 15.—Samuel T. Pennington, of Carter county, Ky., was killed in the elevator of the Munsey Building in this city this morning. There are conflicting stories as to the cause of the accident.

The elevator conductor, Clarence Peake, says that Pennington, who was the only passenger on the car, fainted just as the elevator was leaving the second floor. The other passengers had gotten out at that floor and the elevator was starting and the door was swinging to at the same time.

Pennington pitched forward, his head and shoulders falling in the opening and preventing the doors closing. Before the conductor could stop the car the head and shoulders were caught between the floor and the ascending car and the bottom of the next stop. Pennington sustained terrible injuries and death was immediate.

Pennington had been a clerk in the office of the Auditor for the Navy Department for two years. He was graduated in law at the George Washington law school in this city a few days ago. He was to have been promoted July 1. He is survived by his widow. He had been married less than two years, and had just passed his thirty-first birthday. The elevator conductor was taken into custody. The Coroner will hold an inquest this afternoon.

Mules Bring Fancy Prices.

The mule supply in this section is the scarcest known and the few that are being sold are bringing a remarkably high price. In St. Louis, where ordinarily plenty of mules can be found, it is almost impossible to purchase any and it is claimed by those who know that the reason is that the United States is shipping all the mules to foreign markets. Over 40,000 of these animals are used in the Panama canal, and as the work is hard, many of this number die every year and have to be replaced from the United States. It is believed that this continued demand, which will go on for several years, will keep the price of mules up, and as a result the farmers everywhere have decided to turn their attention to this industry.

A small boy met a horrible death near South Point last Tuesday morning. He was the son of Jack Gorman, a farmer of that section. The boy had been sent to the barn to feed a bull calf about ten months old, and the animal got the child pinned up in a corner of a stall and butted him to death, his fearful hammering on the boy's abdomen bursting his artery.

The father, bearing the boy's frantic screams, rushed to the barn and beat the calf and carried the boy to the house where he later expired from the effects of the awful butting he had received.

The Democrats of Boyd County say it is Boyd county's turn to have the State Senator from this district, and though it is early to begin talking of candidates and elections, they have practically decided on George W. Clevin, of Cannonsburg, to succeed Senator Watson, the present incumbent who lives in Lawrence county. They say Mr. Clevin will have no opposition and that they can elect him by an overwhelming majority.—Catlettsburg Tribune.

The exercises at the M. E. church South last Sunday evening were of a very interesting character. The children of the Sunday school repeated a portion of the program rendered a short time ago, and this was followed by an interesting and well prepared paper on Echoes from the recent W. F. M. S. Convention. This was followed by an illustrated address on Corea and Japan by Mrs. Switzer. The paper and the address were well received. The church was completely filled.

For the third time this season the Paintsville and Louisa base ball teams crossed bats, last Friday in Fountain Park, with the result that the Louisa boys for the third time went down in ignominious defeat, the score standing 21 to 9 in favor of the visitors. This is a poor showing for the Louisa boys, and a suggestion that they go back to town ball, or if found too hard, to Anthony over would be in order.—Ft. Gay Leader.

The friends of Mrs. Emma Jorgenson, who was visiting her sister, Mrs. Jennie Beale here last summer, will regret to learn of her death, which occurred on Sunday morning, June 7th, at her home in Oconomowoc, Wis. On Saturday Gov. Dawson appointed Everett Leftwich, the well known Williamson attorney, to the position of Criminal Judge for Mingo County. In accordance with the terms of the bill passed by the legislature last winter. While not entirely unexpected, this is nevertheless a compliment to Mr. Leftwich, and a recognition of his many party services as well. The first term of the new court will be held on the first Monday in July.

As the time draws apace for the nomination of a candidate for Congress, it behooves us to keep a good lookout for a man who can defeat the present incumbent, who seems to have a mortgage on the place. That man, we think, can be found in the person of H. C. Duncan, of Huntington. He is a democrat without doubt, and he will do credit to the Fifth district and the State of West Virginia in the Congress of the United States.—Wayne News.

Some of you are paying more for your job printing than the Big Sandy News office charges, and getting a poorer class of work and a cheaper grade of stock. It is worth your while to investigate.

RUBBER STAMPS.

Rubber stamps are a great convenience for certain purposes. They are not suitable for printing your letter heads and envelopes. Neatly printed stationery looks business-like and is cheaper, all things considered, than buying blank stock and stamping it yourself. However, we furnish rubber stamps at 1 cent for a single line 3 inches or less in length. 25 cents for 8 lines 3 inches or less.

Nervous Indigestion

The action of digestion is controlled by nerves leading to the stomach. When they are weak, the stomach is deprived of its energy. It has no power to do its work. If you want permanent relief, you must restore this energy. Dr. Miles' Nervine restores nervous energy, and gives the organs power to perform their functions.

"For many years I was an acute sufferer from nervous indigestion; at times I was so dependent life seemed almost a burden. I tried all kinds of remedies and various physicians with little or no relief, until one night last summer I saw Dr. Miles' Nervine and Heart Cure advertised. I resolved to make one more trial, which I did in the purchase of one bottle of Nervine and one of Heart Cure. In a few days I began to feel better, which encouraged me so much that I continued the medicine until I had taken more than a dozen bottles. I am very much improved in every way; in body, mind and spirits since. I make a special point to recommend the medicine, and I feel a sincere pleasure in knowing that several persons have been benefited through my recommendation." A. S. MELLON, Ashville, N. C. Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

In Memory.

Wednesday, June 3rd, 1908, death reached forth its icy hand and touched the form of Mary Bockoo, aged 60 years, six months and 19 days and took her from her many friends and relatives. Mary was a bright, beloved girl, just budding into womanhood. To know her was to love her. She had been sick for three months, when that bright Wednesday morning the Lord knew she was too pure a life to bloom amid the thorns of this world, and called her to live with Him. So, dear father, mother, brothers and sisters, think

Home Circle Column.

A Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers as They Join the Home Circle.

Old people have faults like children, but they have no mothers to forgive them.

Young people should remember that you cannot trust a man simply because you see the golden rule plumed on the front of his hat.

These days we sit on the sunny side of the car, walk on the sunny side of the street and sit in the sunny window of the house. Let us also walk on the sunny side of life and see the sunny side of the disjointed things of life.

Supplement what the children learn at school with reading lessons at home. Reading aloud is good, will improve the reading of the reader, and give information to members of the home circle who may be obliged to work with their hands in the evening.

When tempted to criticize the food on the home table, remember the adage that silence is golden. Criticism is never so exasperating to the housekeeper as at the table, where in spite of hard work and worry, things will occasionally appear that are not as she had planned.

THE COMFORT OF BEING A BOY.

There is a comfort in being a boy in the amount of work he can get rid of doing. It is something astonishing how slow he can go on an errand; perhaps, he couldn't explain to himself why, when he is sent to the neighbor's for yeast, he stops to stone frogs. He is not exactly cruel, but he wants to see if he can't hit 'em. It is a curious fact about boys, that two will be a great deal slower about doing anything than one. Boys have a power of helping each other do nothing. But say what you will about the general usefulness of a boy, a farm without a boy would soon come to grief. He is always in demand. In the first place he is to do all the errands, go to the store, postoffice, and carry all sorts of messages. He would like to have as many legs as a wheel has spokes, and rotate in the same way. This he sometimes tries to do. He has a natural genius for combining pleasure and business.

A TOAST TO GENTLEMEN.

The following toast to gentlemen is handed in by a lady contributor: Bless 'em! They have our joys, they double our sorrows, they treble our expenses, they quadruple our cares, they excite our magnanimity, they increase our self-respect, waken our enthusiasm, arouse our affections, control our property, and out-manuever us in everything. This world is a dreary world without them. In fact I may say without prospect of successful contradiction, that without them this wouldn't be much of a world anyhow. We love them, and the dear things can't help it; we control them and the precious fellows don't know it. As husbands they are convenient, though not always on hand; as beaux they are by no means unattractive. They are most agreeable as visitors, handy at Stetson's, and indispensable at oyster saloons. They are splendid for escorts for some other fellow's wife or sister, and as friends they are better than women. As fathers they are inexpressibly grand. A man may be a failure in business, a wreck in constitution, not enough to boast of as beauty, nothing as a wit, less than nothing as a legislator for women's rights, and not brilliant as a member of the press, but if our father we overlook his shortcomings and cover his peccadilloes with the divine mantle of charity. Then, as our husbands, how we love to parade them as paragons! In the sublime language of the poet:

We'll die for 'em,
We'll cry for 'em
And if we could we'd fly for 'em;
We'd anything but die for 'em.

STARTING IN LIFE.

You are soon to leave and break away from the tender ties of home, and go out to seek your fortune in the world. Let us whisper a few words of counsel. We suppose you wish to be rich; most people do. We don't think riches desirable. We should be sorry to have inherited wealth. But a competence is very desirable, is indispensable. Well, the way to get it is by fore thought to plan industry to execute, and prudence to keep the earnings of your work. Get what you earnestly earn, but never take more. Money is by no means the best thing in life. You are here in this world to become a good man, a wise man, a just man, an affectionate man, a religious man. Work for your manhood as much as for money; take as much pains to get, as much to keep it. Keep clear of voice, especially intemperance, gambling and licentiousness. These three ruin thousands of young men every year. Be not gloomy, sour and stiff. Cheerfulness, gaiety, liveliness and mirthfulness belong to your period of life. You will find little real pleasure in anything your conscience forbids. As you have opportunity, cultivate your mind and forethought, prudence and industry will help you here as much as in getting money. And now would you prolong the sunshine of life forever? We must say to you there is no real happiness in life without religion. It is a restraint from doing wrong, an encouragement to do right, and a great comfort at all times of life. And finally, remember, though absent from the sight of the dear ones at home you will ever live in their hearts; and their highest earthly wish will be that you may prove yourself a noble man.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a humming sound or imperfect hearing, and when this is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by druggists 5c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Watch Repairing.

If your watch is worth repairing at all it should be done right. The prices charged by competent and bold workmen are about the same. Often the skilled watchmaker will charge less, because he can tell what is to be done and is not making a wild guess. More watches are ruined by fellows who are trying to learn this delicate and scientific trade by practicing on the public's timepieces than ever wear out or are broken in any other way.

C. A. Benn at Conley's store, served a full apprenticeship at the trade and has had 42 years of experience. He also does all kinds of jewelry repairing and engraving. All work guaranteed by a good guarantee.

We are authorized to announce CHAS. KITCHEN, of Carter County, as a candidate for Congress from the Ninth Congressional District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

FOR CONGRESS.

EDGAR B. HAGER, of Ashland, Boyd county, is a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Billieitz, of West Liberty, is one of the reading clerks of the G. O. P. show in Chicago.

Many Democrats in Washington favor the selection of former Gov. D. H. Francis, of Missouri, for chairman of the Democratic National Committee, believing that he would be the best man to manage Mr. Bryan's campaign.

Gen. Clement A. Evans, of Georgia, was elected Commander-in-Chief of the United Confederate Veterans. Memphis was selected as the place of holding the next reunion. A committee was appointed to consider the feasibility of the project for the purchase of Jefferson Davis' birthplace in Kentucky.

to Mr. Willson has bowed to the demands of his partisans and pardoned Caleb Powers and James Howard, two of the men most prominently connected with the assassination of Gov. Wm. Goebel.

The most apparent and lamentable fact that exists today is the undeniable truth that ANARCHY is the ruling spirit in Kentucky. The atrocious work of the night riders and the vicious sentiment that would make heroes of assassins proves our statement conclusively.

Notice.

To the Executive Committee of County S. S. A., in Dry fork, Twin Branch and Cat fork, you are hereby notified to meet at Olliville, Ky., on June 27, 1908, at two o'clock p. m., for the purpose of arranging a program for District Convention, and selecting a time and place for holding same.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO

Their Unceasing work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

G. E. Pigg, living in Louisa, Ky., says: "I cannot find words strong enough to express my gratitude for the relief I received from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. For a number of years I suffered from dull pains in my back, and was unable to obtain relief. My kidneys did not perform their functions properly, and were the cause of all my suffering. The secretions were profuse, highly colored of an unnatural color and contained a sediment. I was often laid up with these troubles when Doan's Kidney Pills were procured for me and I took them as directed. They relieved my sufferings and in a short time I felt better in every way. I give Doan's Kidney Pills all the credit for my improvement and never tire of recommending them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Mrs. H. C. Austin Dead.

Mary Austin, daughter of Donthan and Cencie Thomas, was born Sept. 23 1833, in Grayson county, Va. Professed religion at the age of 17 years in Summerfield, church at a protracted meeting held by Brother King, of the South Methodist church, and lived a consistent christian until the end, and died in full triumph of a christian's faith.

Some of the jackleg watchmakers will advertise to clean your watch for 50 cents. But they will always tell you there is an additional wrong. They work you on a cheap skate price. Wherein they charge you double and you have nothing to rely on in the end. Take your watch to Conley's, pay a fair price for honest work, then you will have some satisfaction, instead of having your work ruined by incompetent workmen.

POULTRY NOTES.

Pointers of Interest

Along The Line Of Breeding And Raising Chickens:

The owners of a sawmill cannot lawfully dam a non-navigable stream, if the effect will be to pollute the water so as to unfit for farm purposes by land-owners lower down the stream of to clog the bed of the stream so as to cause its water to overflow upon the lands of the lower owners and impair its value.

A purchaser of an article from an agent may have the contract rescinded on the ground of fraud of the agent in misreading the contract which he signed if he relied on the agent's representation.

The Supreme Court of Kentucky decides that the "market value" of land sought to be condemned for public purposes, such as railroads, is that sum which the owner who desired to sell, but was not compelled so to do, would take for it, in its present condition, and what a purchaser who desired to buy, but was not compelled to have it, would give for it under the circumstances.

Oak and hickory trees standing on the border of a public highway and on the land of an abutting owner on the highway are held to be shade trees under the Kentucky statute punishing the cutting down of shade trees. The case announcing this principle was against a telephone company for mutilating trees.

SUMMER CHICKENS.

There never was a better poultry publication than the old "Poultry World" of some years since, and there never was just such another good, practical and forceful writer as was Mr. Rudd, the "Brown Egg Strain" Plymouth rock man of those old days. Mr. Rudd was a Bostonian, and had a big poultry plant in suburbia of that historic city. He handled ducks, too, but his great specialty was in supplying broilers and fryers for the Boston market, and in supplying eggs with rich, dark brown shells, to the same fastidious customers.

Mr. Rudd used to write a great deal, and tell the public how he was making it pay in the poultry business, and the advice he gave was always good and to the point. He used to advocate January chickens, February, March, April and May chickens, and then he would often come out about this season of the year, with a strong article or two, in advocacy of summer-hatched chickens. He held up the fact that summer and autumn-hatched chickens of this year, would be a splendid autumn and fall layer the next season when the old hens and the earlier hatchmen pullets should be shedding, or too much disposed to set, to be of any profit as layers. He contended that in order to have a continuous supply of eggs for the market, the breeder should have a continuous supply of young stock coming on, and for this reason he favored the hatching off of some chickens quite every month in the year.

Aside from what Mr. Rudd may have said on this subject, there are many of us who have had sufficient experience to enable us to judge in this matter for ourselves, and as one extending the hatching season on and breeder, who has tried summer-hatched chickens, we are strongly in favor of extending the hatching season on and on, just as long as the grass is green in the fields and meadows, and all nature is growing and expanding. Of course, admittedly, the springtime is the greatest and best time to hatch young stock, but this fact need not preclude us from hatching off a few broods along during the summer and autumn, and it is this plan that we would advocate. There has been, possibly, with many breeders, some shortage owing to bad luck, or misfortune with the earlier hatched chickens, and the supply of them now on hand, is not as great as desired. To all such we would say, try a few settings in June, July and August, and use coal oil freely to keep down the lice and mites; giving the chickens the best range available and feeding them dry food only. Then, just as soon as the young roosters in each brood get big enough to eat, get rid of them, and push the pullets.

This plan is quite sure to be an agreeable one, and more or less successful, and the number of nice young pullets that may be added to the flock in this way before cold weather sets in will be quite surprising in extent.

Let's not stop hatching while things are growing and nature is favorable to us all around.

POTATO BUG REMEDY.

The following is said to be a good remedy for potato bugs, cabbage worms, etc:

Take the tender twigs of a common cedar tree. Boil and make strong tea of the cedar boughs. Let it cool and sprinkle the potatoes and cabbage with this tea. Two or three times will be enough for potatoes. Cabbage may need more. This is cheap and non-poisonous.

The Kentucky Court of Appeals lays down the rules that in determining boundaries to land, marked corners are the most satisfactory evidence then natural objects not marked, such as a stream, ridge or cliff, then calls for the lines of other patents which are of record and susceptible of definite and certain location, then courses and lastly distances.

DIARRHEA, DYSENTERY, ETC.

Intestinal troubles of fowls are of many sorts and degrees from simple diarrhea to almost incurable dysentery. The intestines form a large part of the alimentary canal and subject to great irritation through sour and unwholesome food or exposure, cold, wet weather and other causes diarrhea to form.

The symptoms are excessive discharge from the bowels. Diarrhea is responsible for every great mortality among chickens, some poultry keepers losing a greater number of chickens from this cause than from any other chicken ailment.

In this country there appears to be great mystery over the disease known as "white diarrhea," which has caused great mortality among incubator hatched chickens, not due to that cause but to something apparently not understood in artificial rearing, and, as the chicks are only a week or two old when attacked, it is readily seen that there is a difficulty in effecting a cure.

Remedies: Five grains chalk, five grains rhubarb and three grains cayenne—a pill given morning and night. Camphorated spirits is another good and useful remedy. A little alum in the drinking water is also useful.

For white diarrhea, a teaspoon of castor oil, followed by five grains of rhubarb and 10 grains of carbonate soda, or a grain of opium. During the attack and for a little time after its abatement, the bird should be fed on soft food, and have no green vegetables. For young chickens, half a teaspoonful of olive oil is preferable to castor oil and hatched rice should be fed.

Professor Graham of the Ontario Experiment Station, has found that incubator chicks when the egg chamber of the machine is thoroughly saturated with a ten per cent solution of zénoleum and water. This should be applied before the eggs are placed in the incubator and after the proper degree of heat has been adjusted. If the zénoleum is applied after the eggs have been placed in the machine a day or two, it has little, if any effect. The writer has tried both methods and by a comparison of the incubator birds with hen-hatched chicks, the coal tar product appears to be very efficacious in preventing "white diarrhea."

USE OF PYRETHRUM.

A good dusting of the sitting hen with pyrethrum will save the little chicks from onslaughts of lice or mite. This powder should also be mixed in the dusting bath of the fowls for then the birds themselves will apply the powder unconsciously.

Pyrethrum is Persian insect powder, to be had at any drug store.

If one feels dull and spiritless, in spring or early summer, they call it "Spring Fever." But there is no fever usually. It is the after effect of our winter habits. The nerves are mostly at fault. Tired, worn out nerves leave us languid, lifeless and without spirit or ambition. A few doses of Dr. Shoop's Restorative will absolutely and quickly change all of these depressing symptoms. The Restorative of course won't bring you back to full health in a day or two, but it will do enough in 48 hours to satisfy you that the remedy is reaching the "tired spot." Druggists everywhere are advising its use as a splendid and prompt general tonic. It gives more vim and more spirit to the spoonful than any other known nerve or constitutional tonic. It sharpens a failing appetite, adds digestion, frees sluggish livers and kidneys, and brings new life, strength and ambition. Test it a few days and be convinced. All Dealers.

THE CONVENTION.

Democrats of Kentucky Meet in Unity of Purpose at Lexington.

James, McCreary, Haldeman, Beckham, Mayo and Paynter Named As Kentucky's Big Six.

Lewis McQuown, chairman of the Democratic State Central Executive Committee, called the convention to order. He simply rapped with his gavel and said:

"The convention will come to order. The Rev. Dr. E. O. B. Mann, of the Methodist church, will pray for Divine guidance on the proceedings of this convention."

Dr. Mann prayed for a few minutes, asking that God watch over the sessions of the convention and the homes of the men who were here. After he had finished Mr. McQuown said: "The first thing on the programme is the nomination of candidates for temporary chairman of the convention."

The convention then went wild as Ollie M. James, the big Congressman from the First District, walked to the front of the stage. He was to put in nomination Congressman A. O. Stanley, of the second district. Mr. James was given an enthusiastic reception and when he told the story of how Gov. Wilson is sending soldiers out after the night riders at the same time that he is digging in the musty records of a murder case, trying to find some technicality on which to hang a pardon for day-light murderers, the convention broke loose in a frenzy and the cheering and waving of hats lasted for several minutes. Mr. Stanley brought forth cheers again when he mentioned the name of Bryan as the greatest living man.

A motion was made that the nominations be closed. There were scattering calls from the back of the house for Beckham and at one time there was some confusion in the hall as the delegates were shuffling about and doing a great deal of talking. A few men called for Beckham. Mr. McQuown pounded for order and finally restored quiet. Ed near. He is at that the nomination be made unanimous and this was carried with a whoop. Mr. McQuown appointed Tom Marcum and Mr. James as a committee to wait on Mr. Stanley and notify him of his election. While the convention loudly called for their newly elected chairman.

Will A. Young nominated James B. Stone of Breckinridge county, as secretary of the convention, and on motion of Jake Corbett, of Ballard county, the election was made unanimous. William Cromwell, of Frankfort, was nominated and elected assistant secretary of the convention, the two secretaries being the clerks of the house and senate.

In a spirit of harmony and to show democracy of Louisville stands with the past is forgotten and the Democracy of the State for the success of the Democratic ticket, Col. B. Haldeman, speaking for the delegates from the Fifth Congressional district, asked the Democratic State Convention to extend to Gov. J. C. Beckham an invitation to speak there.

Responding to a call of the delegates, Col. Haldeman responded only suggest that the convention hear Gov. Beckham, and, acting on this suggestion, the convention enthusiastically called for Gov. Beckham. The latter responded to the call and spoke for he had shaken hands with Congressman A. O. Stanley, his late opponent for the position of temporary chairman of the convention. The men shook hands in the presence of the convention and Mr. Beckham made a speech in which he said that though he was beaten, he was for Democratic ticket, and no matter how many times he was beaten how often he was still for the Democratic nominees, and he and his friends would stand for them at all times.

Coming from a man whom he had expected to beat for a place as delegate to the National Convention from the State-at-large and after the former leader of the Democratic party had been defeated on a square down among the delegates to the convention, the action of Col. Haldeman was warmly applauded. The cheers which followed his suggestion that Gov. Beckham be invited to the platform showed that the convention was for harmony and on anything being done that would tend to prevent the Democrats of the State, in Louisville, as well as in this fall. The delegates went at the sudden suggestion from Haldeman, as it was unexpected, but they were quick to see that it meant a full and complete harmony programme.

This incident, which was sprung on the convention suddenly, just before the adjournment for the afternoon was the feature of the Democratic State Convention, which was held today to select delegates to the National CConvention, revise the rules of the Democratic party and recognize the party committees. It was the keynote of the convention and the one word which was heard was harmony, and it was spelled with a large and juicy capital H, for there was nothing to it but that the Democrats should stand shoulder to shoulder and face the common enemy, the Republican party, forgetting, as Mr. Stanley said, that there had ever been wounds.

When Gov. Beckham took the stage and declared that although he and his friends had been beaten they were for the Democratic nominees, and would be found supporting them, and when Gov. Beckham and Congressman Stanley greeted each other, the latter, flushed from his victory in the race for temporary chairman, the convention applauded the harmony programme which was outlined and supported by Col. Haldeman and Col. John H. Whallen and the delegates from Louisville.

Gov. Beckham said that he was beaten but he took his medicine squarely, and his speech brought together the factions so that when the State Convention came to an end to-night after a short session the only idea was that there should be any factions longer, that the troubles and splits of the past should be forgiven and forgotten and the prodigal should return to the fold, not to be chastised but to be welcomed and made much over as was the prodigal son in the parable.

After Gov. Beckham had spoken, Senator James B. McCreary was called to the stage and spoke for harmony, and argued that every Democrat, no matter how far he had wandered, should be welcomed back into the ranks of the Democracy of Kentucky and given every right and privilege to which he is entitled.

It was all harmony and the convention, which meant the solid Democracy of Kentucky, was behind the program and determined in favor of a reunited party, free from factional troubles which have split it for the last few years and which have put the Republicans in office. Nothing occurred to bring about a hitch in the harmony programme which was arranged after midnight last night. Mr. Beckham's withdrawal from the race for temporary chairman after he had seen plainly that he was beaten left Congressman Stanley with no opposition, and he was elected temporary chairman of the convention by acclamation. The Hon. Henry Prewitt, of Mt. Sterling, was elected chairman of the Democratic State Central Executive Committee and six Democratic leaders were elected delegates to the National Convention from the State-at-large. They were Gov. Beckham, Congressman Ollie James, Col. W. B. Haldeman, Senator James B. McCreary, J. C. C. Mayo and Senator T. H. Paynter. These men represent all conflicting interests and will cast the vote of Kentucky for Bryan.

Urey Woodson's election as National Committeeman is assured that he will not have any opposition for the place on the National Democratic body. The State Convention was for Mr. Woodson and the delegates to the National Convention will be for him to a man. Mr. Woodson has a chance to be chairman of the National Committee, as his name has been suggested prominently for the position. He has been one of the potent factors in the present State Convention and the delegates were nearly all for him for the representative of the Kentucky on the National Committee. Mr. Woodson's counsels during the present convention have been wise at all times.

Packed to the doors, with every available seat taken, the convention hall was a lively looking place and big hall began filling soon after dinner and the decorations were elaborate. The galleries were filled, one section, which was set aside for women, being packed with good looking women for which Lexington and the Bluegrass of Trigs.

At the Waist

are famous. The committee in charge had arranged things so that there was no delay in finding seats, and ample accommodations were found for everything and everybody. The arrangements for the press were the best had at any convention for some years, the newspaper men who were actually working being placed at a table which stretched across the entire hall in front of the platform. Over the stage were hung two large American flags, while at the back the stage the wall was hidden by a large number of flags. Pictures of Washington, Jefferson and C. Breckinridge hung over the chairman's stand and in the background were pictures of Robert E. Lee, W. J. Bryan. The front of the stage was decorated with flags and palms and all over the building flags and hunting concealed the wood of the galleries. The location of the various district delegates were fixed by silk banners hung from the ceiling and the unsightliness of wooden standards was missing.

All factional fights in the various districts of the State were settled amicably and the district conventions which were held were all harmonious, only a friendly contest being waged for any of the places. The chief interest in the district convention was in the selection of members of the two Democratic State Committees, and there was speculation as to what changes would be made. The make-up of the committees was pretty well settled and the hardest fights which had been made were settled without leaving any soreness or ill feeling. One of the hardest fights was in the Tenth district, where Henry Cox and F. A. Lyons were battling for the position of State Central Committeeman. It was agreed, finally, in the interests of harmony that the other candidates should withdraw and the two leading candidates each take a place on the State Committees. In Memory.

On March 28, 1908, it pleased the Lord to call from us Samuel Lakin at the age of 82 years. Weep not, dear sister and brother, grandfather is at rest. Well does the poet say: 'Tis hard to break the tender chord, When love has bound the heart, 'Tis hard, so hard to speak the word, Must we forever part? Dearest loved one, we have laid thee in the peaceful grave's embrace, But thy memory will be cherished, Till we see thy heavenly face. We miss thee from the home, dear, We miss thee from the place, A shadow o'er our life is cast, We miss the sunshine of thy face. We miss thy kind and willing hand, Thy fond and earnest care; Our home is dark without thee, We miss thee everywhere. Jesus, while our hearts are bleeding O'er the spoils that death has won, We would at the solemn meeting Calmly say "Thy will be done," Adeline, Ky. Lucy and Ruby.

Ashland, Ky., was chosen for the next meeting of the General Association of Baptists in Kentucky.

Congressman John W. Langley is moving to Pikeville from Washington, D. C. His household furniture, of which there is a vast amount, arrived today.

Whitesburg, Ky., June 16.—Mrs. Jane Trivitt, 31, the mountain woman moonshiner was arrested yesterday in Perry county, after making a fierce resistance, firing several shots at the detectives.

Morehead, Ky., June 11.—In an explosion near Paragon today Noah Fugate was killed and Timman Triplett and Obadiah Perry were seriously wounded. The men were tunneling on the Morehead and North Fork railroad. They put two charges of powder in a hole to blow out the rock and expected them to make but one explosion. When one had exploded the men rushed up to the place and just as they reached it the second load discharged, killing Fugate instantly.

It may not be generally known hereabouts that the longest gas pipe in the world will pass through Boyd county, only three miles south of Onlettsburg. The Columbia Gas and Electric Company's line from the gas fields of West Virginia to Cincinnati, O., will cross Big Sandy river at Chadwick's creek and traverse the county to the Greenup line by way of Cannonsburg.

Work on the pipe line will be commenced this fall, and a large amount of money will be spent in the county, as this is the next thing to the construction of a railroad through the county.

In the Johnson Circuit Court at Paintsville the case of F. M. Laynee, et als, against United States Marshal Stephen G. Sharp, for damages resulting from the destruction by fire of the steamer Layneville, at Whitehouse, in 1906, was tried and judgment rendered for the plaintiffs in the sum of $675. The amount sued for was $2,000. It is alleged that Capt. Sharp carelessly looked after the boat while she was in his possession under a writ issued by the Federal Court, and that through his negligence the fire occurred which destroyed the craft.

This case was once before tried in the Circuit Court, and the plaintiff lost, but, on appeal by them, the Court of Appeals reversed the finding of the lower court and remanded the case for new trial, which has just closed with the above result.

Competition Outdistanced.

Last fall when we announced cuts that would astonish the natives, our friends, the enemy, did not think we meant it. They thought that it was a bluff, but when we put all our suits and coats down to HALF PRICE and by this act established the lowest prices ever made that has ever been known in or about Huntington, it made some of them sit up and take notice.

Going them "One Better"

This spring we are doing even more spectacular things in price cutting in some departments, at least.

Last fall we were late in the field. This spring we were the first on the ground with new goods. We had a prodigious sale, and reckoned among our friends, the "ladies of the first land." You see our hats and our suits in requisition at every prominent social function, and the best dressed ladies are our best friends and most regular customers.

In spite of these facts we are selling goods lower than the so called cheap stores. Why? Simply this, we propose never to carry over any goods from one season to another. We have a handsome stock on hand and we propose to sell it or give it away. Then we are remodeling our building and this is an added reason why we must get rid of the stock.

The Prices that do it.

It takes more than wind to convince people. We always have the figures to back up our assertion that we are giving the best bargains. In the first place we purposely marked our goods low. We knew that was the wise policy. Now we are offering every unit, every silk costume and every evening wrap in our entire stock at half price.

We also offer our patrons an elegant line of madras underwear, a line of ribbons, a line of hosiery, a line of belts, and many other items of value at half price. Then we offer a discount almost as large as almost every article that we carry. Hundreds of Lingerie, waists at less than half cost, silk suits, linen suits, fancy parasols, white goods, embroideries and lace, and a hundred other items at prices below any legitimate competition, and the goods themselves the best of their kind.

What a Dollar will Do

A dollar will buy almost twice what it would before we entered the business in Huntington last year. Up to that time prices were high. We have lowered them. Call and be convinced.

GOOD CLOTHES

Do Not Make the Man, But

You are mainly judged by appearance. If you dress shabbily, you effect a lack of refinement, taste and worth. Do not foolishly think it is economical to wear an out-of-season suit because your friends in the business and social world do not approve that kind of economy. A good suit of clothes is an investment which will pay you big dividends in prestige, respect and admiration. All these are worth having and the trifle you think you are saving by hanging on to a thread-bare, shabby suit is really a loss. In spite of a financial depression clothing is better in quality, style, fit and finish than it ever has been. Take advantage of the reasonable, economical prices which obtain here and dress well. It pays in the long run to have a good wardrobe. Do not be an exception.

Come into our store when you are in need of clothing which counts for something in quality. There is distinction to our clothing and every garment is a paragon of excellence. We can supply your needs in furnishings. Try us if you would have entire satisfaction.

Uncle Sam has found that Star Brand Shoes
ARE BETTER

Many of the largest manufacturers in America have just participated in the competitive bid for contracts to supply shoes for the United States government.

All the shoes were cut to pieces, Uncle Sam's buyer uses the knife, cuts, tears and tests the leather in every way.

"Star Brand" stood that test best, and as a result we were awarded the order for men's and boys shoes. It was a nice order, amounting to 15,320 pairs for Boys and 9,150 pairs for Men. We are proud of this order and Uncle Sam's employees and wards will be proud of the shoes we will send them.

24,470 PAIRS

Uncle Sam thus gives his stamp of approval to the honest construction of "Star Brand" shoes and thus endorses the good judgment of 15,000 who now sell "Stars" and over 3,000,000 people who are now wearing shoes with our Star stamped on every heel.
